

Museum Outreach Educator
Full-time position
Salary: $41,794 - $66,871, based on experience
Drug screening required

General Objective: Educator needed to develop and present STEM and other mission-based programs for students and general audiences, predominately through off-site outreach programs delivered at schools, child care centers, and community organizations.

Typical activities include:

- Delivering educational presentations
- Developing content
- Conducting evaluations
- Facilitating public events
- Teaching special classes

Education: This position requires a four-year degree from an accredited university in STEM education, environmental science, earth science, natural science, biology, social studies, or a related field. North Carolina or South Carolina Teacher Certification is preferred but not required.

Essential Skills: Classroom, museum, or informal education experience is preferred. Candidate must possess a valid driver's license and a good driving record. Public presentation skills are essential.

Work Schedule: Position requires a flexible work schedule that will include some evenings, weekends, and holidays.